

“Surviving as a Grain Farmer in Tough Economic Times”

A workshop focusing on the farm management tools necessary for survival in a down economy

TUESDAY
DECEMBER 9, 2008

9:00 AM - Noon

Asotin County
Aquatic Center
1603 Dustan Loop
Clarkston, WA

Cost is FREE.
Potential Savings to Your
Farm Operation ...
Priceless!

Co-sponsored by the
WSU Garfield and Asotin
County Extension Offices

9:00 a.m.

Analyzing and negotiating farm leases. How can you manage financial risks given highly variable commodity and input prices.

*Presenter
Dr. J. Shannon Neibergs, WSU
Extension Economist Specialist*

9:45 a.m.

What’s up with this grain market? What are the fundamentals behind the current grain market and what is the future outlook?

*Presenter
Dr. Mykel Taylor, WSU
Extension Economist Specialist*

10:30 a.m.

Residue management options with conservation tillage and no-till systems. Should we burn or remove crop residue? Or leave it alone? What are the pros and cons of residue management?

*Presenter
Dr. Hans Kok, WSU & UI
Extension Conservation Tillage Specialist*

While drop-ins are welcome, we would greatly appreciate letting us know if you plan to attend this event.

Name _____

Complete Address (city, state, zip) _____

Phone (____) _____ Email _____

Please RSVP to Mark Heitstuman, PO Box 9, Asotin, WA 99402 or call (509) 243-2009 or e-mail to heitstuman@wsu.edu or Fax to (509) 243-2018